COMMANDER COMMENTS ON SEVERAL ISSUES

ENERGY

Although the 154th FIG has cut its energy consumption, everyone must be constantly alert to every fuel saving alternative.

MOGAS, AGE generators and those fuel consuming devices directly related to aircraft maintenance and flying are especially critical to savings.

HAIR/GROOMING

A majority of our members have exhibited good grooming standards and uniform appearance. Haircuts have improved!

DRILL FEEDBACK

Under January's split drill set up UTA's fell on the 12 and 20. All comments, for or against, should be offered to Lt Col. James Lota. A side benefit this month: the Super Bowl was on the 13th.

BLUESHIRTS OK

Blue polyester 1509 shirts are available to all members. The shirt with dark blue trousers is NOW AUTHORIZED FOR DRILL FORMATION.

COMPLAINT DEPT.

Air Force Regulation 123-11 outlines a major shift in the military complaint system. Basically it means that any HIANG member may take his or her complaint directly to ANY LEVEL of command in attempting to seek satisfaction. The 154th FIG has assigned individuals at the command level to handle all complaints, in addition to this policy.

15TH ABW COMMANDER REQUESTS
EVACUATION COOPERATION IN FUTURE

A recent NO-Margin Conventional exercise was conducted at Hickam AFB. The report by the PACAF Inspector General indicated that persons being evacuated from the exclusion area did not display a sense of urgency or were simply not aware of their required actions.

Col Paxton, 15ABWg Commander has asked that emphasis be made to all members on the importance of cooperating during disaster preparedness exercises. Basically, evacuation means to leave the danger area without hesitating to sightsee.

Evaluation team members will note any uncooperative actions and your unit commander will be asked to explain your actions should you fail to respond during an exercise.

RECRUIT OF THE WEEK

He sez he's an "energy conservation specialist." Can we use him?

THIS GAME'S FOR REAL -- MSgt. Benjamin Goo and TSgt. Richard Kudo check out their $1.5 million "toy"--the flight simulator for the F-102 aircraft. Capable of reproducing every conceivable flight situation and emergency, the simulator is located amidst a huge set of computer equipment in the group headquarters building. The Flight Simulator section checks out every pilot in the 199th FIS at least once a month.

AIR GUARDSMEN NOW MAY MAKE

"ESSENTIAL STOPS IN FATIGUES

WASHINGTON, D.C. The latest change to AFM 35-10, the Air Force's uniform manual, has authorized persons living off base to make essential stops enroute to and from work while wearing fatigues.

The manual spells out what are essential stops enroute--grocery shopping, department store visits, service station waiting periods. Bars, recreational facilities and entertainment establishments are still off limits in fatigues.

CAR POOLS WORKING THROUGH OUT AIR FORCE

FROM WILLIAMS AFB, ARIZ., TO WRIGHT PATTERSON AFB, OHIO, INDIVIDUAL BASES ARE DEVISING PLANS AND PROGRAMS TO BRING AIRMEN TOGETHER IN ENERGY AND MONEY SAVING CAR POOLS.

AT WILLIAMS AFB, CAPT. DAVID HARRIS DEvised AN INTRICATE GRID SYSTEM COVERING THE SURROUNDING COMMUNITY. PERSONS DESIRING TO PARTICIPATE IN THE CAR POOL THEN FILLED OUT A CARD INDICATING THEIR LOCATION ON THE GRID AND THEIR HOURS OF WORK. WITH THE DATA AUTOMATION AND MANAGEMENT ANALYSIS SECTIONS COOPERATION, THESE RESPONSES WERE ANALYZED BY COMPUTER. EACH INQUIRY WAS THEN ANSWERED WITH A COMPUTER LISTING OF ALL OF THE OTHER PERSONS IN HIS AREA WHO ALSO INQUIRED. FROM THERE IT IS UP TO THE CAR POOLERS TO GET TOGETHER AND BEGIN THEIR ENERGY SAVING TRAVEL.
