GROUP AIRMEN TABBED OUTSTANDING STUDENTS

A3C Steven S. Sumida, who joined the 154th Combat Support Squadron last June, was cited for "Outstanding performance of academic duties while attending the Plumbing Specialist Course at the Shepard Technical Training Center."

A student from August through October Sumida received a final course grade of 91 and was the outstanding student in his class. His accomplishment was noted by the Air Training Command's technical school and resulted in a special certificate award and a letter of commendation.

Similarly cited for outstanding work while at service school are A3C Melvin Nishimoto, Honor Graduate of the Organizational Supply Specialist Course at Amarillo Air Force Base, and A3C Ronald Izutsu, Honor Graduate of the Inventory Management Specialist Course at the same base.

Nishimoto joined HANG in January and completed school in April. Izutsu enlisted in February, and graduated in July. Both are assigned to supply work with 154th Materiel Squadron.

The outstanding records of the above airmen reflect well on their attitude as well as their "can-do" spirit. The 154th joins their families in taking pride in their achievements.

We understand that there are others and will report them next month.

NOTES FROM 154th MATERIEL SQUADRON (AD)

(Mahalo to Reporter SMSgt A. Mizumoto)

Maintenance Shooting For 95% SKT Goal!
Since March 1964, 33 out of 36 persons taking the SKT have passed -- a better than 90% passing rate. Since July 1964 22 persons have been tested and 19 are known to have passed. The goal of 95% SKT passing rate is in sight!

The following sections have achieved a 100% passing rate over the last twelve months: Standardization/Training Shop, Quality Control 1, Engine Shop, Instrument Shop, Sheetmetal Shop, and Weapons Shop.

People to People Program

SSgt Theodore T. S. Geo of the Engine Shop left the Group recently to participate in the International Farm Youth Exchange Program in India, as a USA delegate. Sponsored by Four-H, the six to eight months tour is a people to people program for better world understanding. We look forward to having Ted back again.

All Work and No Play, etc....

The first quarterly party of the Field Maintenance Section was so successful that another one is being planned for this month. The last affair was at the Matsunoya Tea House (stag-type); the next will include the wahines -- nine course dinner at Hilton Hawaiian Village.

A warm aloha to Mr. Lucas Lineberry, Senior Engineer from Hughes Aircraft. Assigned to Fire Control Section, Mr. Lineberry arrived in July from Goose Bay Labrador, his last duty assignment, and was married in August. As the kamaaines say: "He no waste time."

A1C ReginaId Chun (Missile Section), A1C Herbert Okamoto (Fire Control), and A2C Raymond Choy (Radio), all tied the knot recently. We don't know which is best to have on a honeymoon -- Missile or Fire Control? With Radio you can call for help.

NEXT DRILL DATES: J 13 DECEMBER
